PATIENT SAFETY CURRICULUM

PATIENT SAFETY SOP

DEPARTMENT OF ORAL MEDICINE AND RADIOLOGY

SOP (STANDARD OPERATIVE PROCEDURES)

FOR O.P.D

(ORAL DIAGNOSIS AND MEDICINE DEPARTMENT)

Every new patient, with a complaint come to the department of oral medicine and radiology with the case paper. The patients are made to sit on the dental chairs.

Here (final year, third year) students and interns do the checkup (Short history, medical history and complete examination) with the help of diagnostic instruments (mouth mirror and probe) under the observation/guidance of departmental staff (Tutor/reader/professor). Personal protective barriers (mask, gloves, apron-head cap) are mandatory for everyone (Students, interns, doctors) who examines the patient. If the patient is having any infectious disease (HIV/ AIDS, tuberculosis etc.), he/she is examined with the separate set of diagnostic instruments. After that all the details of history and examination are entered in the case paper along with its management plan (investigation if required and treatment). If any radiograph is required for the diagnosis or treatment plan, along with the type of radiograph the amount to be paid by the patient at the cash counter for the investigation/radiograph is written on the back side of the case paper as radiology department is a part of OPD. The case is then counter examined, and counter signed by any of the departmental staff (Tutor/reader/professor). Patient is then instructed to go to the table of computer operator/staff nurse where entry of their case paper is done. The computer operator/staff nurse has a new case register. She makes entry into the registers accordingly.

If the patient is advised any investigations (e.g. Radiographs) that can be done in the hospital premises, patient must report to that department (e.g. Dental and Maxillofacial Radiology) and must follow the protocol/SOP of that department for the investigation to be carried out properly. When patient comes back to the OPD (Oral diagnosis and medicine department) department all the reports were analysed and accordingly the treatment is planned.

If the patient is advised any investigations that cannot be carried out in the hospital premises or the patient is asked to bring his/her reports of the underlying medical conditions, patient has to submit the case paper at the case counter before leaving the hospital.

Counselling and non- surgical management (Medicinal management) of any condition/pathology is possible in the department but if the patient requires any specific dental treatment (e.g. Extraction, scaling, root canal, denture etc), patient is referred to that department. Full mouth treatment plan is suggested to all the patients reporting to the department.

FOR SPECIAL CASES

Patients with. significant oral pathological conditions are allotted as a special case to students (third year, final year, or interns) according to the severity and rarity of the pathology. Detailed record of such cases is taken for the clinical as well as academic purpose and the same is entered by the student in the register named "Special case register", in which countersign of staff member is again taken. Management of such cases includes and medicinal management and (Topical, oral, intra-lesional route), vital staining procedures, tobacco cessation counselling etc. and follow-up.

SOP FOR DENTAL RADIOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Dental radiology department is a part of the oral diagnosis and medicine department and all type of intraoral radiographs (Intraoral periapical, bitewing, occlusal radiographs) and digital extraoral radiographs (OPG and other skull projections) are done here on a regular basis. Patients who require radiographs for the diagnosis or treatment plan are referred to the dental radiology department. Patient must pay the required amount of fees at the cash counter and has to submit the receipt at the radiology department. On the receipt, details such as patient's data, type of radiographs and fees are written and the same is entered in the departmental register (Intraoral radiograph register, extraoral radiograph register). In the department there are two sections (1) Intraoral radiography unit/section (2) Extraoral radiography unit/section. Patients are directed to the respective section according to the type of radiographs.

Radiology technician and students take radiographs and process them in a darkroom. Students also have postings in the radiology department as a part of their curriculum. Students take radiographs, process them, and interpret them under the guidance of departmental staff (Tutor, reader, professor). After processing, radiographs are given to the patient and patient is referred to the department from which the reference was given.

FOR INSTRUMENTS/EQUIPMENTS

All the diagnostic instruments that are used in the examination procedure are autoclaved and they are arranged/kept/set separately in a large kidney tray and all the used instruments are kept in the small kidney tray. Steel glasses are used for the patient if he/she needs to gargle or drink water during examination procedure.

These autoclaved instruments are periodically checked by the nursing staff.

Register of these instruments is maintained by them. Any damaged/broken/not in use instruments are condemned which are then replaced by the newer ones (after being indented from hospital storeroom)

FOR STERILIZATION

All the used instruments and gauze pieces in the kidney trays are collected by attender. Then instruments and gauze pieces are separated. Instruments are then washed by antiseptic solution and brush while gauze pieces and gloves are kept separated. Washed instruments are then sent for autoclave. The department has 2 autoclaves. Before placing the instruments in top loading autoclave, chemical indicator strips are sticked to the inner part of the lid. After sterilization, instruments are transferred by nursing staff as mentioned in SOP of instruments or equipment.

FOR DEPARTMENTAL CLEANING

Department is cleaned daily in the morning before the O.P.D starts. Cleaning of floors is carried out by mopping with the phenyl. All the chairs and tables of the department are dusted and cleaned with wet cloth. Dental chairs are wiped with wet cloth and sinks are cleaned up with liquid detergent daily after completion of all the procedures in the department.

FOR BMW (BIOMEDICAL WASTE)

Each dental chair has a separate dustbin beneath it. Dustbins are covered with plastic bags. All the students, after the examination always throw the waste (gauze pieces or gloves) in the dustbins only. At the end of the day, each plastic bag from the dustbin is collected by the attender and according to the type of waste, it is thrown into bigger size of dustbin of specific colour (yellow colour - dressing materials, red colour -gloves, IOPA packets).

Needles are collected separately and are destroyed in needle cutter machine.

Finally, all the plastic bags from different colour dustbins are discarded and placed out of the department.

FOR RADIOLOGY WASTE

Depleted developer and fixer solutions, lead foils are collected in separate containers which are later collected by external agency for disposal. This is done once in two months.

STEP BY STEP PROTOCOL OF PATIENT'S MANAGEMENT IN THE DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATIVE DENTISTRY AND ENDODONTICS

1. Sitting arrangement of patients in waiting area outside the department.
2. First triage area:
    - At the entry point a Team of one Intern and one postgraduate student will take detailed history of the patients.
3. At the reception area: Receptionist to note the patients' information in new/old case file.
4. Diagnosis area:
    - A team of one intern and one postgraduate student will be there, supervised by a staff member.
    - Autoclaved instruments in green cloth wrapped will be placed in UV chamber installed near diagnostic area by sister.
    - Used diagnostic instruments will be placed in chemical solution followed by autoclaving.
5. Operative area:

    Before Dental Procedure:
    - Record detailed history before the clinical procedure (A serious adverse reactions caused by allergies [latex and lactam antibiotics], endocarditis, bleeding disorders, undetected severe [some fatal infections in immune compromised patients.)
    - Autoclaved instruments stored in UV chamber are used during operative procedures

    During Dental Procedure
    - Routine procedures are performed with necessary precautions and instruments.

    After Dental Procedure:
    - Exercise extreme caution when prescribing medications.
    - To remove debris from files and reamers before sterilization by soaking the files and reamers in sodium hypochlorite solution before brushing.

- Provide necessary post treatment information to the patient and next appointment if required.

COVID SOP

1. Sitting arrangement of patients in waiting area:
    - At a time only 7 to 10 patients can be seated maintaining a social distancing of 6 feet.
2. First Triage area:
    - At the entry point, a team of one intern and one postgraduate student will take detailed history of the patients.
    - Patient is supposed to keep his or her case paper in designated tray only.
    - Here patients will be asked to sanitize their hands
    - PPE- Face shield, Mask, Gloves, Head Caps.
3. At the reception area:

    - Assistant with disposable gown, head cap, face shield and gloves.
    - Used diagnostic instruments will be placed in chemical solution followed by autoclaving.

5. Operative area:

Before Dental Procedure:

- Record detailed history before the clinical procedure. [A serious adverse reaction caused by allergies (latex and lactam antibiotics), endocarditis, bleeding disorders, undetected severe (some fatal) infections, and immunocompromised patients].
- Autoclaved instruments stored in UV chamber are used during operative procedure.
- As dental treatments fall under high-risk category for airborne and droplet infections, strict measures have to be followed to ensure operator and patient's safety. The use of personal protective equipment, including masks, gloves, gown, protective eye glasses and face shield is recommended to protect skin and mucosa from potentially infected blood or secretions.
- Autoclave drapes, head caps and protective eyeglasses are used for patient.
- Ask patients to rinse the mouth with 1.5% hydrogen peroxide or 0.2% povidone iodine mouthwash for one minute.

During Dental Procedure:

- Protect the patients' eyes during dental procedure.
- Keep the air conditioning vent facing upwards, use of air purifiers with HEPA filters is recommended.
- Use of rubber dam to reduce aerosol production and to prevent ingestion or ingestion of materials and small instruments.
- Four handed Dentistry with high vacuum suction.
- Anti-retraction handpiece may provide additional protection against cross contamination.
- Autoclave handpiece for every patient. Recommended to keep five to six spare handpieces autoclaved.
- Limit the exposure of patients to ionizing radiation.
- Never reuse packaging materials or substances intended for one clinical use only.
- Sharp instruments are. Handled carefully by operator and assistant.

After Dental Procedure:

- Exercise extreme caution when prescribing medications.
- To remove debris from files and reamers before sterilization by soaking the files and reamers in sodium hypochlorite solution before brushing. Ultrasonic cleaning before sterilization, Sterilization of burs including soaking the burs in commercially available disinfectants followed by manual cleaning, use of ultrasonic baths or autoclaving.
- Areas and items of equipment local to dental chair that need to be cleansed between each patient with 1 % sodium hypochlorite or 70% alcohol; These include: local work surfaces, dental chairs, curing lamps, inspection lights and handles; hand controls including replacement of covers, trolleys or delivery units, platoons, aspirators, X-ray units.
- A gap of 20 to 30 minutes after each patient should be maintained.
- Fogging at the end of the day.

PATIENT SAFETY CURRICULUM

Standard Operating Procedures

1. For Doctors
   - During the process of grossing, it's essential to follow all sterilization protocols when handling the specimen bottle.
   - After reporting, it's crucial to maintain hand hygiene.
   - The reporting station and microscope should undergo surface disinfection according to routine protocol.
2. For Technician

SOP for RBS

- Employ standard precautions when dealing with clinical specimens, as they all carry the potential for infectious material.
- Standard precautions encompass various measures, such as practicing hand hygiene and wearing laboratory coats or gowns, gloves, and eye protection.
- Adhere to routine practices and procedures for decontaminating work surfaces, which typically involve using 10% sodium hypochlorite followed by water or 70% ethanol to prevent surface corrosion.
- Dispose of used lancets by placing them in a dedicated container containing a 5% sodium hypochlorite solution. Later, transfer them to a sharps container for proper disposal.
- After each use, clean and disinfect the blood glucose meter by wiping it with cotton dipped in 70% isopropyl alcohol, followed by washing with soap and water.
- Maintain hand hygiene between attending to different patients.

SOP for Histopathology specimen handling and processing.

A. Transportation of samples to laboratory

- Ensure that the sample is fully immersed in a sealed bottle containing 10% formalin, and include a completed history form and patient affidavit.
- Following the receipt of the specimen, the technician should adhere to hand hygiene practices.

B. Handling of sample in the laboratory

- The instruments utilized in grossing should undergo thorough cleaning and sterilization.
- Every instrument used for grossing and processing must undergo sterilization after each use.
- Adhere to standard laboratory practices and protocols for decontaminating work surfaces, which typically involve using 10% sodium hypochlorite followed by water or 70% ethanol to prevent surface corrosion. Additionally, ensure proper management of laboratory waste according to established procedures.
- Handle the staining procedure and stained slides while wearing gloves.

Laboratory disinfection

- Perform regular surface disinfection, especially after any spills, using 10% sodium hypochlorite followed by water or 70% ethanol.
- Clean the floor using a routine disinfectant.
- Maintain a well-ventilated laboratory environment.
- Local environmental decontamination can be conducted using formaldehyde as needed.
- Availability of hand washing in laboratory
- Additional items such as books, watches, and bags are prohibited from being brought into the laboratory.

3. For Patients

- The proper disposal of cotton swabs and used glucometer strips should be performed following the provided guidelines.
